Home-Management, Book List

Abercrombe, Roland K. How to buy or build your home wisely. 156 pp., illus. MacMillan Co., New York. 1941.

Excellent on costs, values, and laws, in simple terms, easily understood. No information on rural problems or house plans.

Aronovinci, Carol. Housing the masses. 291 pp., illus. John Wiley & Sons, New York. 1939.

A good reference book for persons interested in housing of low-income families in cities.

Nelson, Gilbert D., et al. Everyday problems in mathematics. 494 pp., illus. Houghton Mifflin Co., Boston. 1940.

An excellent textbook based on family economic problems. Worth owning.

Sorensen, Helen. The consumer movement. 245 pp. Harpers & Bros., New York. 1941.

Preface by Dr. J. D. Black, Professor of Agricultural Economics, Harvard University. An analysis of "letterhead" and legitimate consumer organizations. Extension Service activities mentioned. A book worth owning if one is interested in long-time objectives and progress of the consumer movement.
